ARBITRATION AGREEMENT
(Waiver of My Right To a Court/Jury Trial)

In California, healthcare consumers who are victims of medical negligence are ordinarily entitled to the right of a jury trial where members of the community decide the facts of a patient's case against his or her healthcare provider. In a Jury Trial against a healthcare provider, the patient and patient's family (the "plaintiffs") and the healthcare provider (the "defendant") each get to present evidence to a jury in a California courtroom. At the end of the trial, a Judge instructs the Jury on the law that applies to the case. The jurors decide the facts (whether the defendant healthcare provider was negligent or committed other wrongdoing and whether such conduct caused harm to the patient, and how much money should be awarded as damages for the harms and losses to the patient and/or the patient's family).

In an arbitration hearing, a neutral arbitrator – often an experienced attorney or retired judge – replaces the jury and decides the case.

By signing this agreement you are agreeing to give up/waive your right to a court/jury trial and to instead arbitrate any civil claim you might ever have against Dr. Hakakha, her office, and her staff.

By signing this agreement you agree that any arbitration decision will be binding. Binding means any Arbitration decision would be final and not appealable.

Wherefore, I understand and agree that (except for Small Claims Court cases, claims subject to a Medicare appeals procedure, and claims that cannot be subject to binding arbitration under governing law), any civil dispute between myself, my heirs, relatives, on the one hand and Dr. Hakakha, her staff, business, corporation, and any healthcare providers acting on behalf of Dr. Hakakha, on the other hand, for any alleged violation of any civil duty arising out of or related to medical care and treatment, including any claim for medical or hospital malpractice (a claim that medical services were unnecessary or unauthorized or were improperly, negligently, or incompetently rendered), for premises liability, or relating to the coverage for, or delivery of, services or items, irrespective of legal theory, must be decided by non binding arbitration under California law and not by a civil lawsuit or resort to court process, except as applicable law provides for judicial review of arbitration proceedings.
